Robbins Appointed Dance Chairman

Andrea Robbins was appointed general coordinating chairman of the Homecoming dance, Oct. 22, by Jean Goldinger, Student Senate president, at its second meeting Monday night.

The Men's Independent Society was designated to aid with the dance decorations. Working also on various phases of the dance are Omega Phi Alpha, Alpha Phi Omega, Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council, Cap and Gown, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Penalty Listed

Leon Deibth, a member of the spirit committee, announced that those freshmen found guilty by the Freshman Board, which tries frosh who fail to wear their beanies or fail to know required information about the University, will be roped together and paraded in a "human chain" around both Fraternity and Sorority Rows.

The second pep rally is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 21, before the Homecoming game with Toledo University. It will start at 6:15 p.m.

Senators Appointed

Jane Metzger, Gayle Myers, and George Howick, all Senators, were appointed to the Senate reviewing committee which selects students to fill positions on various Senate committees.

Miss Goldinger urged that students from all classes attend Senate meetings on Monday evenings in 117 Administration Bldg. The meetings are open to the student body.

Queen Election Set For Oct. 19

Ethel McMillan, chairman of Student Senate Elections Committee, has announced two major changes in the voting procedure for this year's Homecoming Queen election.

In an effort to eliminate prejudice from the balloting, the candidates' pictures will be identified only by numbers. The pictures will be on display all day Oct. 18, on the wall opposite the Post Office in the Administration Bldg. Candidates are warned that the deadline for turning their pictures in is Monday at 5 p.m.

Another major change is that only senior women will be eligible to run for queen. The two attendants will be chosen from among the other three classes.

The election will take place on Oct. 19 from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Rec Hall.

17 Students Enter Advanced Course

"Seventeen AFROTC cadets from air science II courses have been selected for advanced training leading to an officer's commission," stated Col. Carl G. Arnold, professor of air science.

They are: Robert E. Adams, Robert T. Brannon, David O. Carpenter, Eugene S. Chapman, Charles E. Ehrenfried, Terry L. Emrick, Gary R. Gravette, Roger W. Howard, Donald G. Ibbotson, James W. Lessig, Leland M. Lev, Lawrence A. Link, Terry C. Lower, Harold B. Peek, Thomas Snide, Steve Ray, and Lynn Rader.

The advanced corps also includes these new air science III students: Jerry D. Roe, Wayne E. Schake, Alan M. Shepp, George J. Szabo, Gerry C. Von Bargen, Paul V. Wagner, and Ronald E. Walsh.

These cadets will be assuming many new jobs in the corps such as operations sergeants, personnel sergeants, supply sergeants, and administrative non-commissioned inspectors.

Book Store Refunds Start Next Week

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, has announced that next week its book store will be open to return money and obsolete books. The store will conduct business Monday through Wednesday, Oct. 10 to 12, from 2 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. The APhiO book store is located in the Rec. Hall of the Administration Bldg.

Two Seniors Named To Posts

Sally Moran and Jack Roth have been appointed as senior representatives to the University Committee on Student Leadership and Activities.

They were selected from five candidates who were considered by Student Senate. Selections are based on character and qualifications with a minimum 2.5 scholastic average required.

Diane Johnson, president of Cap and Gown, announced that Frances Isch will be that group's representative to the committee. One member of Omicron Delta Kappa will complete the student membership on the group which makes all appointments of students to University committees and Student Court.

Faculty and administrative members of the committee are chosen by the Faculty Council and Pres. Ralph W. McDonald.

Beanie Wearers Go To Game Together

Freshmen will attend the football game together Saturday night and sit in a section reserved for them. The frosh will be met by upperclassmen at their respective dorms and assemble in the parking lot opposite Rodgers Quadrangle.

Upperclassmen ushering the freshmen are asked to meet in the main auditorium at 6:40 p.m. Upperclassmen wishing to assist are welcome to the meeting.

In case of rain, there will be no reserved frosh section.

124 Women Apply For Fall Rushing

Dean Florence Currier announced that 124 women signed up for upperclass rushing Monday and Tuesday. Rushing started Thursday, Oct. 6, and will continue through Thursday, Oct. 13. Rushes will sign preference slips at Dean Currier's office between 7 and 8 a.m. Oct. 14 and will receive their bids at 5 p.m. the same day.

All parties are informal, with no refreshments or planned entertainment. Each rushee may attend three open houses and one overnight at each house. Invitations for the day should be picked up before 8 a.m. at Dean Currier's office. Quota for each sorority will be 12 girls.

Frosh Hoaxed Into Facing Board; Found Guilty Of Violating Laws

"You have been selected as one of a limited group of freshmen to participate with a group of upperclassmen in a special program of importance to the whole University," read a letter that some 40 freshmen carried into 303A Wednesday afternoon.

After the doors had been closed and some 12 upperclassmen posted around the room, presiding officer Dan Wawrzyniak walked to the front of the room and began, "You're all here because you are freshmen and have violated one of the laws of being a freshman. This is the Frosh Board."

Wawrzyniak continued, "Your name was taken by an upperclassman because you didn't have a beanie or you didn't know BG cheers or songs." He then opened the floor to defense statements from the freshmen.

The first came from a freshman boy in the front row who stood and demanded, "I'd like to know what I did?" "Sing the Alma Mater," was Wawrzyniak's answer. "I don't know it," retalliated the freshman. "Sit down."

At that moment, a member of the faculty, Dr. Maurice Mandell stalked to the front of the room. He addressed the judge and requested that he be allowed to act as "amicus curiae," or friend of the court. Permission was granted and the mediator addressed the defendants.

Nine Religious Courses Possible For Non-Credit Work: Bock

"Courses in religion, open to all students, are now under way and the turnout is very warming," reported the Rev. Paul Bock, director of United Christian Fellowship.

Non-credit courses, first offered here last spring, are for students who want an opportunity to do systematic study in religion.

Three Awards Ready For Scholars Night

Three awards will be given at Panhellenic Scholarship Night Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. in the main auditorium, stated Elaine Karney, local Panhellenic president.

Delta Gamma sorority will present the award for the highest sorority average. Alpha Chi Omega sorority will present the trophy for the highest pledge class average, and city Panhellenic will present the trophy to the sorority with the most scholarship improvement.

Elden T. Smith, professor of speech and director of student life and services, will be the main speaker.

Alpha Kappa Omega Joins Ranks Of Campus Social Fraternities

Acceptance of a fifteenth social fraternity on the Bowling Green campus was granted by Interfraternity Council last week. The new Greek group to be known locally as Alpha Kappa Omega, is already petitioning a national social fraternity for affiliation.

Formal initiation ceremonies will be held Friday, Oct. 14, at 9 p.m. in the Fine Arts auditorium. The ritual will be closed, but following it a reception will be held for all fraternity and sorority presidents, plus administrative and faculty members.

Official approval for accepting this group into the University social organization program was granted by Pres. Ralph W. McDonald.

The group beginning with 15 members will hold its chapter meetings on Tuesday evenings in 117A until a more suitable place can be found. Social plans include a private dance Oct. 22, Homecoming night.

Fraternity officers are Donald Browder, president; Walter Ballard, vice-president; Herbert Moorhead, secretary; James Tucker, treasurer; Charles Williams, sergeant-at-arms; Carlos Jackson, corresponding secretary; and Arthur Sykes, historian. Norman Brown is the Interfraternity Council representative.

Other members are Harrison Chappell, Larry Kent, Floyd Hitchens, Berton Keith, Walden Keith, DeWayne Smith, and Ronald Barnes. Faculty advisers are Doyt Perry, varsity football coach, and Dr. Maurice Mandell, assistant professor of business administration.

Committees already functioning for the fraternity are its athletic, social, rushing, publicity, and scholarship programs.

Lakofsky, Himmel Give Song Recital Sunday

Two members of the music faculty, Joseph Himmel, baritone, and Helen Lakofsky, piano, will present a song recital in the Practical Arts auditorium, Sunday evening, Oct. 9, at 8:15 p.m.

Major portions of the program will be devoted to songs of Richard Strauss and Henri Duparc. As the concluding work, a tragicomic cantata, written for the "Funeral of an Artistically Trained Canary" by the 18th century composer Telemann, will be joined by two other members of the music staff, William Alexander, violin, and Seymour Benstock, cello, and two students, Norman Nonamaker, violin, and Martha Olds, cello.

Admission is free to the public.

Student Work Hangs In Rodgers, Prout Hall

Thirty student paintings have been placed in the halls of the Rodgers Quadrangle and Alice Prout Hall.

These paintings, done by University art students, were exhibited in the student art show last year. The artists also made the frames for these pictures, according to Willard F. Wankelman, chairman of the art department.

The University bought these paintings after deciding that the best way to decorate the two new dorms was to make use of student talent.

Clerk's Hours Listed For Auto Violators

The clerk of the Student Court will be in 102A, Stuart Givens' office, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Tuesday from 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.; and Thursday 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

All students are required to pay fines within 48 hours to the clerk, and all students wishing to appeal fines to the Student Court must also appear within that time.

Instructional Series Of Productions Offered By Speech Department

"Suspenseful theatre . . . , informative and stimulating . . ."—these are only a few of the phrases used to describe Family Plays in the reviews of such magazines as Life.

The main theme of all the plays deals with problems arising within the home. The purpose of the plays is to help parents understand their school children behavior. After a play has been given, a discussion period follows which parents may find that many of their individual problems are solved.

BG Enrollment Program Subject

Critical problems arising from mounting student enrollment will be discussed by Pres. Ralph W. McDonald, when he is interviewed on "Meet the President," a radio program to be heard over three Ohio stations.

Dr. McDonald will be interviewed on the second broadcast of a new weekly series over WOSU Saturday, Oct. 8, at 11:45 a.m. By special arrangements with the stations, Dr. McDonald's interview will also be heard on WWBG, Sunday, Oct. 9, at 5:30 p.m., and on WFOB, Monday, Oct. 10, at 6:15 p.m.

Dr. McDonald will be interviewed by Sidney C. Stone, associate professor of speech.

Five of these plays are being produced by the Bowling Green speech department. Any one of the plays will be presented upon request to audiences of at least 50 persons which have arranged for a discussion leader. The Family Plays will be touring the 75 mile area around Bowling Green from Oct. 20 throughout the academic year. Only 65 performances will be given, so groups desiring to schedule one of the plays should contact the speech department as soon as possible.

Each play is double cast and under the direction of Jim Schaffer, a graduate assistant in the speech department. Harold B. Obee, Director of the Community Drama Service, is the faculty adviser.

Joined together at the wrists by rope, freshmen, sentenced by the Frosh Board for violating laws of being a freshman, begin their walk to the Nest where the judgment was carried out.

He advised the defendants to plead guilty as charged because their mere presence in the room indicated their guilt. "I feel," the court's friend continued, "that this court deals crooked justice."

One freshman boy made a noble last stand. "Who gave upperclassmen the right to enter and search my room. I do have some constitutional rights. Who wants to wear beanies, anyway, I like this hat better," he concluded waving a blue ball cap in the air.

"Since there are no more comments because discussion is closed," Wawrzyniak broke in, "I sentence you to walk through the campus and Nest joined together at the wrists by rope."

In Our Opinion

The Answer Is Yes

Students can finally share in the building program of the University. The bond issue before the voters of Ohio can bring $75 million into the till for state universities, public schools in financially-distressed areas, and state offices. It leaves to the voters the choice of expanding present educational facilities or leaving them in the shape they are now.

Most of the student body have not reached the voting stage yet, but they are the ones who can promote the passage of this issue through their parents and friends, an issue vital to them as students and vital to the University if it wishes to remain a progressing institution.

Some of our classrooms are in poor condition, others are emergency facilities. The first week jumble of class meeting rooms, or the lack of them, indicates the need for improved and additional classrooms.

A recent analysis of the situation indicates that the investment per Bowling Green student is approximately one-half that of students at other Ohio state universities. Since no funds were appropriated by the 101st General Assembly for new buildings at state universities, a defeat of this issue would postpone the availability of any funds until 1957.

And with building plans and materials running into their usual time snags, no academic buildings would begin for four years from now, even with the passage of this issue.

In case you're wondering why we can build such things as dormitories and a Union without state funds, it seems that they are self-liquidating buildings. That is, they are revenue-producing and pay for themselves. No income is derived from the use of educational buildings, so the only way to finance them is through state appropriations.

And the immediacy of the situation on the campus is obvious when glancing at such buildings as our psychology clinic, English and psychology buildings, crowded conditions of classrooms, and the overflow of the auditorium during assemblies.

Only by voting Yes on proposal No. 1 in the Nov. 8 election, can Ohio's voters insure improvements in the educational building plant of the University in the near future.

In The Campus Eyes

Admission of a new fraternity to the campus social scene is another sign of the growth of the University. This chapter draws together many outstanding men who have heretofore not been included in Greek activities.

As the University enrollment increases steadily, there shall doubtless be further additions to our fraternities and sororities so that the membership in the present ones does not become bulky.

Any new fraternity has problems, financial, scholastic, social, and membership. But in solving them, Alpha Kappa Omega may draw from the experience of the older groups, most of which have expressed a willingness to assist.

Its handling of matters as they come will test the group's ability and the student body, Greek and independent alike, will watch its struggle for campus existence.

Tests Available To Accounting Students

Howard H. Kane, associate professor of accounting, announced that plans are being made to administer the College Accounting Testing Program, sponsored by the American Institute of Accountants.

Test results are confidential and will not appear on school records. There is no charge to the student for these tests.

Professor Kane said, "The four major objectives of the testing program are to assist the college counselor in advising students considering a career in accounting. These tests will also provide the student and teacher with progress checks at various levels in the accounting course. Tests will also aid accounting seniors in finding employment by furnishing potential employers with objective measurements of aptitude and proficiency; and will provide colleges with a yardstick for comparing the aptitude and achievement of their students with that of students throughout the country."

These tests take 50 minutes and contain three parts: vocabulary, reading of business materials, and arithmetic problems in the field of business. They yield a verbal score based on the first two parts, a quantitative score based on the third part and a total score.

The College Accounting Testing Program is broken into three levels. Achievement Test Level No. 1 is for students in accounting 122. This test will be most useful at the end of the first year of accounting; but it is also suitable for use with second and third year students. It measures the achievement of students within a school and provides a comparison with students of other institutions.

Level No. 2 will be administered to graduating seniors only. One of the greatest values of this test is job placement. This test includes classification relationships, entering transactions in books of original entry, analysis of adjustment, cast records and reconciliations, analysis of depreciation histories, tracing the effect of errors, inventory methods; influence of inventories on net profits, and comparisons of inventory methods.

The last part of the testing program concerns students who are taking accounting 121. An orientation test is recommended for use preceding the study of accounting or at the end of any school year.

300 Students Attend Third Annual Yearbook Conference

Nearly 300 students and advisers from Northwestern Ohio secondary schools took part Tuesday in the third annual high school yearbook workshop sponsored by the journalism department.

A better understanding of the ways and means of improving yearbooks was the theme of the day. Dr. Raymond W. Derr, associate professor of journalism, was general chairman of the workshop.

Featured at the event were various displays presented by manufacturing groups who deal with yearbook needs in the area.

The day was divided up into three sessions. The first session dealt mainly with the needs of the beginner. The discussion in this area centered about such problems as the fundamentals of starting a yearbook, selection of staff, and picture-taking.

Included in the elementary morning session was advice for more experienced staffs regarding camera mechanics, lighting effects, enlargements, and choice of subject.

The second session was based on the fundamentals necessary for production of a yearbook. Problems regarding publications, lay-

WBGU Announces Program Plans

"The Evolution of Jazz," a program describing the historical, musical, and sociological aspects of jazz, is one of three new series to be presented on University FM radio station WBGU, said Sidney Stone, station director.

"Man's Right to Knowledge," an educational series, and "The Great Lakes Pathway to Progress," a study on inland waterways, are the other new network programs.

New live shows over WBGU will be "The Language of Music," which will be broadcast in cooperation with the music department, Monday through Friday at 8 p.m. Nancy Looman will present "From a Woman's Point of View," a program dealing specifically with news of interest to women on an intellectual level. It will be broadcast on Saturdays at 11:15 a.m.

out, material, and technical aspects were emphasized during this session.

After a meal at the Commons, the students resumed the workshop procedures. The afternoon was comprised of a series of discussions emphasizing the problems of individual concern to yearbook staffs.

UCF To Organize Protestant Choir

Carl Beyer, assistant director of UCF, announced that plans are being made for the formation of a protestant choir on campus.

Joseph Himmel, assistant professor of music will direct the choir.

The first meeting and organization of the choir will be Sunday, at 4 p.m. "We are hoping for a good turnout and would like to urge all protestant students interested in singing to attend," stated Mr. Beyer.

Plans are being made for the choir to participate in the weekly chapel services and in protestant services in Bowling Green.

Arnold, Shaw Head Guidance Program

An addition this year to the University services is a student counseling program. Dr. Frank C. Arnold, associate professor of psychology, and Dr. Carl E. Shaw, assistant professor of engineering drawing, are in charge of its operations. The office is in 119 Administration Bldg.

The aims of the program are varied. In the main part it performs three tasks. Through different tests it offers the students vocational guidance. A second service will be personnel counseling and a third aid is assisting students in contacting the right sources of their fields.

Freshmen may also come in to receive the results of the freshman entrance tests they have taken. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and on Saturday mornings. Carol Smith is the full-time secretary of the program.

Barrell, Claflin In Panel Discussion

Dr. Charles Barrell, chairman of the political science department, and Dr. Edward Claflin of the department, participated in a panel discussion before the League of Women Voters of Bowling Green Sept. 26. The topic was "Freedom of Expression." Also on the panel was John Wilson of Bowling Green, formerly with the Dept. of Agriculture. The Rev. James Trautwein acted as moderator.

Library Display Draws Students

The addition of a showcase near the circulation desk in the University Library attracts the eye of many students as they wait for their books at the desk. The present display is to help Bowling Green celebrate its Centennial.

Dominating the exhibit is an old map of Wood County dated 1858. This map was given to the Library by the Oberlin College Library, stated Dr. Paul F. Leedy, librarian. Some of the names of these towns have changed through the years and others have names

Pershing Rifle Group Recruits New Men

Eighty-five freshmen representing the Army and Air Force ROTC attended a smoker held Monday, Oct. 3, by the Pershing Rifles to acquaint them with the organization.

Cadet Capt. Berton Kieth, of the Pershing Rifles, spoke on the history of Pershing Rifles.

Off the Record

By DICK BUDD

Welcome back to Bowling Green. It certainly has been dull since you left. No, we're not talking about the student body, although we do extend you our welcome. What we're speaking of is the revitalization of spirit within our ivy-covereds.

Someone finally got the idea that it would be good to start hazing frosh again and to start cheering at football games and the like. The majority of the thanks goes to the Spirit Committee which has taken upon itself the job of rejuvenating a rather retiring student body. This undertaking hasn't been a haphazard arrangement as it sometimes has been in the past, but rather a method of programming carried out, so far, in every degree.

BUDD

What are the results of this campaign? The freshmen are wearing their beanies, a practice virtually unknown to those who are upperclassmen today. The frosh even took it upon themselves to organize their own pep rally before the football game. These are all vast improvements.

Now what? It's up to the upperclassmen to keep the stone from gathering moss and back their promises of "frosh court" etc. with action. We've been trying to reach this desirable status of more pep on campus for some time. We have a good wedge with which to work. Why stop now?

As most of us have noticed by this time, the campus has taken on a new look with buildings springing from lawns everywhere. With the two new dorms opened, Alice Prout and Rodgers Quadrangle, Bowling Green claims two of the most modern living centers in the country today.

The point averages of fraternities turned out to be the best in quite some time. Some fraternities were quite surprised to find that even though they turned in higher grades than for the previous semester, they dropped several places in the overall rating.

Kukla, Fran and Ollie, famous puppet routine, were guests on the BG campus this summer. The trio closed out the 1955 Puppetry Festival held here this July. Some 350 puppeteers from all over the U. S. and Canada attended the week-long convention.

A small town is a place where everyone knows everyone else's business, but read the local paper to see if they've been caught at it.

Residents of St. Mary's, Ohio are having an economist's picnic. A bread war between two large super markets sent the price of a 20-ounce loaf of bread, normally 17 to 21 cents per, to one cent a loaf.

When a pep rally was scheduled at The University of Michigan, the students responded, and how. The pep rally, poorly organized and rather dull, was brightened up when it erupted into a full scale panty-raid. More than 1,000 students rampaged through women's dormitories and re-wrote theater marquees to read, "Michigan Beat State."

Falcon Skein On Line; Entertain John Carroll

Bowling Green will seek its third win of the season Saturday night under the lights against John Carroll University of Cleveland in a non-conference game.

It will be the Blue Streaks first game of the 1955 season and their fourth contest against the Falcons. The last time BG tangled with Carroll was in 1949 with the locals coming out on the short end of the score, 38-24.

In the other two previous meetings Bowling Green lost the first game played in 1928, 20-0, and managed to tie the visitors, 13-13, in 1948.

The Blue Streaks won three and lost four in last year's campaign. This year, however, added enthusiasm of being accepted in the Presidents' Conference has caused the Falcon coaching staff not to take the game too lightly.

John Carroll runs from the T-formation under the hands of head coach Herb Eisele. Eisele, who hails from Dayton, is assisted by Cal Belanich and Sil Storch.

The team is built around six returning lettermen and 32 other candidates. Because of this being their first game of the season not very much is known of their scoring threats or defensive power. This also prevented the Falcon scouting staff from getting any secrets about John Carroll's potential.

The only comparison is that of last year's records. Carroll defeated Kent, 14-0, and Baldwin-

Bryan Top Passer; DeOrion, Kent Lead In Rushing Game

Quarterback Jim Bryan, who paced the Falcons to their first Mid-American Conference win by completing 10 of 12 passes and intercepting a pair of Bronco passes, heads the passing department along with the punting and pass interceptions.

Hecker Leads

All-Mid-American Conference end Jack Hecker took over first spot in the receiving department when he grabbed four passes against the Michigan eleven for 100 yards and one touchdown. The rangy senior has also kicked four of five points-after touchdowns, which along with two touchdowns places him second in the scoring column.

Chunky halfback Vic DeOrion, a 155-pound ball of fire, continues to pace the ground game. The Canton sophomore added 101 yards against the Broncos to run his total to 234 yards. DeOrion had a 49-yard touchdown run along with some fine punt returns and pass receiving.

Kent Follows DeOrion

Following DeOrion in the rushing game is halfback Larry Kent, who scored his third touchdown of the year on a 20-yard pass from Bryan, and took over top place in team scoring with 18 points. He has a net yardage of 153 yards in rushing and heads the punt return column, too.

With 81 points, the Falcons are the second leading scoring team in the state and the defensive mark isn't too bad either allowing only one touchdown to be scored on them in three games. Kent State tallied that one in their 6-6 deadlock.

The Falcons hold down second place in the MAC.

Wallace, 33-13. Bowling Green lost to Kent, 28-25, and defeated Baldwin-Wallace, 13-0. In the Dayton game Bowling Green stopped them, 18-0, and Carroll stopped them, 20-13.

Regardless, athletic publicity director Don Cunningham says the local coaches expect a good game and feel that anything can happen. The action will get under way at 8 p.m.

Thinclads To Debut At Amateur Meet

Bowling Green's cross-country team will make its initial appearance of the season tomorrow at the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union Meet. The event is to be held at Warren Valley Country Club in Detroit. Wayne University of Detroit will sponsor the meet.

Among the schools competing are Wayne, University of Michigan, 1954 Big Ten champions; Western Michigan, Mid-American Conference runner-up in 1954; Michigan Normal, and Central Michigan.

Captain of this year's Falcon squad is Jack Mortland, a junior from Columbus. Other standouts include junior Bob DeLaRonde, Toledo; and Fred Price, a sophomore from Marion.

Reception Held By PEM Club

In honor of the freshman and transfer students majoring in health and physical education, the Physical Education Majors Club held a reception in the majors' lounge, Womens Bldg., Oct. 5.

The new graduate assistant, Mrs. Dolores Black, was introduced. The reception line was headed by Miss Gertrude Eppler, chairman; included also were Miss Iris Andrews, Mrs. Amy Torgerson, Mrs. Black and the officers of the PEM Club.

Men's Honorary To Meet
Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's physical education honorary, will hold its first meeting of the fall term at 7 p.m. Monday in 300 Men's Gym., according to Warren E. Steller, adviser to the honorary.

Plans and special projects for the year will be discussed and a new slate of honorary officers will be elected by the members for the 1955-56 school term, Steller stated.

ATO's Honor Dads At Saturday's Game

This Saturday's game between Bowling Green and John Carroll will feature Dad's Day, according to Don Cunningham, sports publicity director.

The annual event is sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega fraternity honoring all the football dads of the year. The dads are provided special seats in front of the stadium and during halftime a special presentation to the "Football Dad of the Year" will be made.

All the dads are treated to a special dinner with their sons before the game. In conjunction with the affair all the dads who have sons belonging to Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity are also treated to a dinner and are invited to the game.

The dad of the year will receive an engraved trophy courtesy of the ATO's.

Cast Is Chosen

"The cast for Bowling Green State University's first major theatrical production, 'Arms and the Man' by George Bernard Shaw, has been chosen," Frank L. Miesle, assistant professor of speech, said.

Included in the cast are Juanita Baugh, Daniel Wawrzyniak, Robert Rask, Frank Toth, Betty Beall, Jim Rodgers, Dolores Kolthoff, and Ronald Mainous.

Coach Creason Announces That Frosh Are Loaded With Backs

After a very limited offensive scrimmage last Friday, Sept. 30, frosh football coach Forrest Creason reported that this year's junior Falcon squad is backfield-heavy.

The first scrimmage saw approximately 50 men working in the backfield slots with only 30 linemen providing defense.

Every position is still undecided, and Creason realizes that there are some good potential players which he has not had a chance to look at. "But," he remarked, "each player will receive my attention in time and a final lineup is far from being decided."

The quarterback position is to be decided between these five try-outs: Ed Ferkany, Flint, Mich.; Norm Salminen, Painesville, Dale Pittman, Toledo, Roger Micheli, Marion, and Chuck Perry, Verdunville, W. Va.

Rubin Sims, Lima, Allen Jensen, Port Clinton, and Phillip Richards, Barnesville, are standouts at the fullback slot.

Gene Bennett, Columbus, Don McFadyen, Chicago, Ed Mack, former All-Ohio from Mansfield, and Bob Ramlow, All-City last year from Cleveland, are sparking the halfbacks.

The end position finds Ray Reese, New Philadelphia, Jim Cordiak, Cleveland, Mel Moore, Gibsonburg, Walter Collins, Portsmouth, and Jake Phillips, Berea, fighting for the vital spots.

Outstanding linemen are Larry Baker, Shelby, Ray Bennett, Columbus, Frank D'Eramo, Marion, Bob Huff, Willard, Cliff Wedge, Lancaster, Fred Hennie, Berea, Wayne Dillon, Mansfield, Richard Fomley, Toledo, Fritz Miller, Canton, Jerry Lohr, Elmore, Dick McVay, Washington, Pa., Tom Pendell, Flint, Mich.,

Charles Hart, Hilliards, Jim Dreher, Canton, John Martello, Ashtabula, and John Valentine, Circleville.

Flankers Hecker, Kisselle Give Perry Strong Offensive Attack

BY WILLIAM COOPER

Coach Doyt Perry inherited two outstanding conference ends when he took over the head coaching job of the Falcons this year in the persons of Jack Hecker, all-Mid-American Conference end, and Tom Kisselle, second team MAC end.

Hecker was selected by his teammates as the outstanding lineman of last season's team. He led the team in scoring with 23 points, including five extra points. Jack caught 12 passes which were good for 274 yards, three going for touchdowns.

Three Sport Man

Hailing from Olmstead Falls, O., where he was a three sport man, Hecker gained most of his recognition on the basketball court. In his senior year, All-Ohio honors were bestowed on this six foot, two inch, 189 pound lad. He also gained letters in track and football, gaining all-scholastic and all-county in football.

As a sophomore at BG, Jack played both halfback and end, getting 40 yards in 17 carries as a runner, and catching 11 passes for 241 yards as a flanker. Before coming to Bowling Green, Hecker spent one year at Manlius Military school.

Football has run in the Hecker family, as two of his older brothers made pigskin fame at Baldwin-Wallace College. One of his brothers, Norb, is still playing professional ball with the Washington Redskins after service with Los Angeles and Toronto of the Canadian Football League.

Kisselle Wins Two Letters

Hecker's running mate at the other end post, Kisselle, has earned two letters previously to this year as a valuable man on the Falcons' football team. Kisselle, six foot, one inch and 190 pounds, came to BG from Rocky River, O.

Utility Man

Tom earned his letter in his sophomore year as a general utility man. He divided his time at end, halfback, and center, before finally being stationed at the end slot. In high school football at Bay Village, Kisselle won three letters at another spot, guard. This versatility has proved to be an asset to Kisselle as he has turned into a good blocker as well as a top-notch end.

Kisselle tied Hecker in touchdowns last year as he nabbed three passes for paydirt. In all he caught seven passes which were good for 120 yards. He is noted for being a good pass catcher in the league as is Hecker, and this pair gives BG's quarterbacks two outstanding receivers.

Why Chancellor Adenauer reads The Reader's Digest

"In my country more than 500,000 people read the Digest in German each month. And they read not only about the people of the United States, but about the people of all nations. The Reader's Digest has forged a new instrument for understanding among men."

In October Reader's Digest don't miss:

ALL ABOUT LOVE. How can we tell the difference between true love and physical attraction? Can we really fall in love "at first sight"? What makes us fall out of love? Scientist Julian Huxley brings you a biologist's view of our most complex emotion.

THOSE CAMPUS MARRIAGES. How do student marriages work out? Are young couples able to cope with studies and household chores? What happens when babies come along? Report on today's collegians who promise to love, honor—and study.

19-PAGE CONDENSATION FROM $4.00 BEST-SELLER: "MY PHILADELPHIA FATHER." Whether blue-blooded Anthony J. Drexel Biddle was teaching judo to the Marines, singing a dubious tenor in opera, hobnobbing with pugilists or raising alligators in the house, he did everything all out—and then some. Here, told by his daughter, is the laughing, loving life of "America's happiest millionaire."

KDs Use Mermaids, Streamers, Fish For 'Underwater Fantasy'

"Underwater Fantasy" is the theme of the Kappa Delta dance which will be held Saturday night from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight in the Women's Gym. The music for the evening will be provided by Norm Condick's band.

The decorations will consist of green and white crepe paper streamers from ceiling to floor. Fish and seashells will surround the entrance to the dance floor. Other fish will decorate the walls of the gym, and figures of a "mermaid" and a "merman" will appear on the backdrop.

Refreshments will be served at the dance.

Marilyn Evans is general chairman for the nautical dance. Committee chairmen are Mona Loekey, bandstand; Luanne Evans, wall; Sara Banks, ceiling; Carol Kroft, entrance; Pat Limbird, chaperones' corner; Eleanor Aughey, program; Judy Stanfield, refreshments; and Rita Couk, publicity.

Chaperones for the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. E. Eugene Dickerman and Mrs. June Herndon, head resident of Kappa Delta.

Newmans Elect; Hayride Tonight

Mary Bryant, social chairman of the Newman Club, announced that the club is sponsoring a hayride tonight.

All Newman Club members and guests are invited. The price is 35c for members and 50c for guests.

The wagons will leave from Newman Hall at 7:15 p.m. and will travel to the Otsego Shelter House at Eagle Park where square dancing and refreshments will be offered.

Tom Geiger was elected president of Newman Club at the first Executive Committee meeting Oct. 3. Other officers are Celia LaLonde, vice-president; Mary Lou Bowman, secretary; Dee Olenic, corresponding secretary; and Barbara DeBoer, treasurer.

Homecoming Bids Sent To Alumni

Letters and order blanks for reserved seat tickets to the 1955 Homecoming game are being sent to 11,000 alumni, announced Mrs. Robert Fisher, director of alumni affairs.

The letters invite former students and their families to come back to the campus for a week end and to enjoy the many events scheduled.

Dedication and open house at the new dormitories, the Annual Alumni Luncheon, and special honors to the class of 1930, are among the attractions for the weekend.

Alice Prout Hall Holds First All Dorm Party

Alice Prout Hall had its all-dorm party Thursday at 10 p.m. in the sunken main lounge. Miss Phyllis Wilkie, head resident, and counselors Betty Goller, Barbara Jane Luke, Mary Lou Robinson, and Marian Smith planned the program of games and refreshments.

Newly-elected floor representatives for Prout Hall are Helen Herriman, Mary Louise Knight, Delores Osborn, and Dorothy Tucker.

Phi Sigma Mu Sponsors Mixer

Phi Sigma Mu, music honorary, sponsored a mixer for all music majors and faculty members of the music department at 8 p.m. last Wednesday in the Practical Arts Bldg. The event formally introduced freshmen majoring in music to the music department's faculty and to the upperclass music majors.

The evening's activities were highlighted by games and skits in which both students and faculty members participated. Refreshments were served following the entertainment.

Karis Stahl acted as chairman of the occasion and she was assisted by Charlotte Koch, Mary Lou Robinson, and Shirley Brechmacher.

Waynar Donates Jeep For Fraternity Use

A jeep donated for use to Delta Upsilon by George Waynar, DU alum, was seen for the first time in the pep rally last week, said Fred Hansen, DU president.

Waynar has allowed the actives to paint a large Delta and Upsilon on the roof of the metal covering that fits over the two seats and two identical symbols on the back of the vehicle.

DU will be able to use the Willys in campus activities until Waynar completes his graduate work in economics, Hansen said.

The four-wheel-drive jeep is light blue with two air horns, a radio and heater.

Symphony Orchestra Chooses New Officers

Verne Collins was recently elected president of the University Symphony Orchestra for the year 1955-56.

Other new officers include Martha Olds, vice-president; June Roche, secretary and treasurer; and Peggy Loving and Jeanne Anderson, publicity co-chairmen.

An increase in both membership and student interest in the orchestra's campus activities will be the year's chief projects.
